THE TAKING OF THE PHILIPPINES.

An Interest Discussion on This Subject at a Meeting of the Contemporary Club at Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Nov. 10.—The effect of territorial expansion upon our domestic relations was the subject of discussion at a meeting of the Contemporary Club, the speakers being John Bach McMaster, the historian; Thomas G. Sherman of New York, and former Senator Edmunds. The first speaker favored and the others opposed the acquisition of territory not contiguous to the United States.

Dr. McMaster gave a history of the policy pursued by the United States in its acquisition of foreign territory and its method of governing it, to show that the proposed taking of the Philippines would be in line with previous acts. He said he believed there was no reason why we should not govern these islands as acceptably as the great west, which was acquired by several purchases.

Referring to the declaration of independence and its enumeration of the several rights of the government, quoted by opponents of a colonial system, Dr. McMaster said the principles there stated had never been literally incorporated into the governmental system of the United States, or of any state. Jefferson, who wrote the declaration of independence, negotiated the purchase of Louisiana, and Federalists of that day urged the same objections in force to-day—that we would be compelled to admit to citizenship on equal terms, the creoles, the Spanish, the French, the negroes and all other persons inhabiting this large territory.

It was their claim that the Mississippi was the natural boundary of the United States and later that providence had erected the Rocky mountains as a proper boundary of our Union. He quoted from Daniel Webster that the constitution could not be stretched to cover a territory.

It related only to states. A territory was simply owned by the United States as a man would own a horse. He showed also that from the beginning of our acquisition of territory, the president had been the supreme authority, appointing a governor and council, and that territories were admitted as states, not as a matter of right, but of expediency.

Former Senator George Edmunds said in part:

"Our sons and daughters cannot live in the tropics. Look at the case of Great Britain and her hundreds of years of Indian mastery. Everybody knows that there has never been an English settlement within the tropics, but civilians that go there 9 out of 10 die before they are 60 years old, and the loss of the battalions that go there is greater than that of our sons and brothers who went to Santiago and Camp Alger."

Referring to the Philippines Mr. Edmunds said:

"We now have from these islands all the commodities they produce on the same terms that other nations do. Suppose we take them and adopt the British colonial policy and make them a close colony and allow no one to trade with them except ourselves. How soon would the other nations meet us by saying: 'We will treat you the same way in our colonies,' and then the chance of commercial gain would bankrupt the United States in ten years."

"We told Spain, and told the world, by a solemn declaration of our congress when we began this war against Spain, that we rejected the idea of territorial aggrandizement. Was that a lie, a sham or false pretence? And we stand upon the face of the world and say: 'Yes, we have been lying.'"

Hounds Not Good Witnesses.
Wabash, Ind., Nov. 10.—The evidence supplied by bloodhounds which have been put on the trail of criminals has been ruled out by Judge Young of Warsaw, in the case of Gilbert Young, who was traced by the hounds and arrested for malicious trespass. When the case was called the judge decided that there was no authority for accepting the evidence offered by the dogs, and that it would be palpably unjust to hold the prisoner. As the state had no other proof, Young was discharged.

Highest Prices in Fourteen Years.
New York, Nov. 10.—Seats on the New York stock Exchange were quoted Monday at $27,500 bid, which is the highest price in 14 years. The record price is $34,500, which was paid in October, 1891, by George B. French. With $1000 initiation fee, Mr. French's seat cost him $35,500. Since then seats have sold as low as $14,000. Their advance recently is ascribed to the prosperous condition of business in Wall street.

Prince George Appointed.
Constantinople, Nov. 10.—Great Britain, France and Italy have accepted Russia's proposal to appoint Prince George of Greece high commissioner of powers in the Island of Crete.

The Turkish government has applied to Germany and Austria against the proposal, but ineffectually.

Natchez Free From Fever.
Natchez, Miss., Nov. 10.—The Democrat will publish a statement certified to by all the practicing physicians of the city to the effect that Natchez is now entirely free from any case of yellow fever. It can also be stated that not a new case of fever has occurred for 10 days.

Kaiser Going to Spain.
Madrid, Nov. 10.—The German consul at Cadix has received a telegram announcing that Kaiser Wilhelm will visit that place on his return journey on the 20th of this month.

His Envious Lot.
Mr. Pitt—Since your friend Hinkins married Miss Bonds he has been leading the life of a dog.
Mr. Penn—I'm sorry for him.
"I'm not."
"Don't you sympathize with him?"
"Not at all. He has nothing to do but eat, sleep and amuse himself. It's the life of a pet pug dog he leads."

The Transformed Pythagorean.
Some undergraduates once wished to play a practical joke upon a man who was a disciple of Pythagoras, so one day when he was a little sleepy by reason of the amount of brandy and soda that he had imbibed his friends smeared him with honey and rolled him in the inside of a feather bed. When the disciple of Pythagoras got up in the morning, he looked in the looking glass at himself and said slowly, with a whistle, "Bird, by Jove!"—London Figaro.

Domestic Repetitive.
She had put on her hat and gloves and was moving toward the door, when he looked up from his newspaper and asked:
"Where are you going?"
"A husband with good sense never asks his wife where she is going."
"But I suppose a woman with good sense has the right to ask her husband where he is going?"
"A woman with good sense never does anything of the kind, because if she has good sense she never marries, so she has no husband. Ta, ta!"
And it never dawned on her that she had called herself an idiot.—Pearson's Weekly.

A CLASH OCCURS AT WILMINGTON.

Eight Negroes Reported Killed, Two Wounded and Three Whites Injured.

ARMED WHITE MEN PATROL THE CITY.

A Negro Newspaper Office Is Demolished and the Building Totally Destroyed by Fire.

THE OUTCOME LOOKS DARK AND DISMAL.

Fears Are Entertained That Armed Negroes Will Attack the Place, and the Whites Are Taking no Chances.

Wilmington, Nov. 10.—The negro laborers at the Champion compass, more than 500 became terrorized about 11 o'clock this morning over wild rumors of trouble and rushed into the streets. They were finally somewhat quieted and dispersed in small squads to their homes.

At 11:30 trouble occurred in the Fifth ward. Three whites wounded and three negroes were killed. Large companies of armed citizens gathered at the scene. The negroes retreated, but are being quietly reinforced by laborers from the compass.

Fayetteville has been telegraphed to for help.

A representative of the Associated Press has seen a statement that was sworn to before a notary public from a reputable citizen, which positively states that the first shot in the trouble in the first ward, was fired by a negro.

As a result of the fight William Mayo, a well known and popular young man, was fatally wounded in the side. Bert Chadwick was wounded in the arm. Three negroes, whose names cannot be ascertained, were killed, and one other wounded.

Washington, Nov. 10.—A dispatch from Wilmington to The Star says: Between 1 and 2 o'clock this afternoon there were several skirmishes. The total casualties were eight negroes killed, two wounded and three white men wounded.

Wilmington, N. C., Nov. 10.—The negroes not having complied with the demands of citizens, and especially the business men, at 7:30 o'clock this morning, the time fixed, a column of 600 armed whites assembled at the corner of Market and Fifth streets and at 8:30 o'clock this morning marched to the office of The Daily Record, a negro newspaper, and destroyed all material found in the building. The building took fire, but some assert this accidental. Those in command of the whites men say they had no intention of firing the building. As soon as it was discovered the building was on fire the leaders sent fire engines and the flames were confined to The Record building. On the south only 20 feet distant is St. Luke's, one of the largest negro churches in the city, and on the north, within 12 feet a frame building occupied by negroes. The Record building is a wreck, being almost totally burned.

The action of the whites was the sequel of Wednesday's meeting at the court house, and the result of which was a demand on the negroes for the removing of a printing press and the cessation of the publication of The Record.

Last night was an anxious one for citizens in the residence section. About 8 o'clock a street car came into the business section and reported that negroes had fired into it and that the passengers had returned the fire. A car loaded with armed men was soon speeding toward the scene of trouble, but the offenders escaped. The entire eastern end of the town was aroused and armed men were on street cars, on every corner and patrolling the dark streets. In a negro district 30 or 40 young negroes assembled, but they were not armed and not violent, and the older men said they did not contemplate trouble and sincerely hoped for peace. All night long the whites kept guard about the business and residence sections, but no incident occurred.

Excitement is intense as it is feared the negroes will attempt to retaliate tonight. The streets are full of armed whites and at least 1000 men will be on guard tonight. The column that moved to the Record office was composed of the best citizens of Wilmington and even ministers were either in the march or guarding the city with Winchester.
